

To my favorite family,

I can't believe Christmas is here! Can you?
As you know it's time to say...catch you later alligator, see you in a while crocodile! First, I want to let you know that I am one lucky elf to spend Christmas with the best family on Earth. Boy, has it been fun! All the fun we've had this year, I will take with me and share with all my North Pole family and friends. We will sit by the fire and drink hot cocoa as we relax and rest before starting to make goodies and toys for next year. Just remember, just because you don't see me doesn't mean I'm not there. Isn't that what Christmas is all about? The magic lives in your heart now and always. Do good this year and make me proud like you always do.

Love,